Has Special Valentine, Her Own Heart

CLEVELAND (AP) — Little Charmaine Augustine, who is 7, has a very special valentine. It is her own heart.
Like a good many other children, she had to have an operation to correct a structural defect in the heart chambers.
In recent years, with the help of artificial heart and lung machines, many operations of that type have been performed.
But this time, something else was needed. And for a month she wore on her chest a battery-operated gadget, a little larger than some hearing aids, to keep her heart pumping properly.
Now her heart is normal and she has her own "valentine."
Charmaine's parents brought her from Jackson, Miss., after the operation at Cleveland Clinic.
The surgeons repaired the structural defect. But they also noticed that the section of the heart which gives the big muscles their pace was weak. It was supposed to give the muscles a good electrical signal, but was providing only a weak impulse.
So before they closed the incision in her chest, they sewed two tiny wires to the heart's own pacemaker. These wires were connected to a small electrical box, containing transistors and a battery, which sent "tiny spikes of electricity" into her heart at the rate of 20 per minute.
This portable pacemaker is a recent development, based on larger machines, which are kept in operating rooms to pace a faulty heart during surgery.
Last week the doctors decided her natural pacemaker was strong enough now to do the job. They disconnected the wires and sent her home.
Today they let the story be told.

Auto, Train Hit and One Man Injured

A series of accidents here, last night and this morning, left one man injured and heavy property damage.
About 6:45 last night, a special Missouri Pacific train, No. 558, traveling east, hit an auto driven by Lynn Vines at the Washington and Division Street crossing.
Vines suffered injuries to his left shoulder, left hand and back. He is being treated in a local hospital. The extent of his injuries could not be determined immediately.
Investigating City Officers Rowe and Rothwell said that the train smashed into the left front of Vines' auto and slammed it off the track about 24 feet from the point of impact.
Early today on Highway 67 about midway between Hope and Emmet, a pickup truck driven by H. W. Buggs Jr. of Emmet went out of control and traveled from 500 to 600 feet into a pasture before hitting a log. Buggs was brought to a Hope hospital for treatment in an Oklahoma ambulance. He was later released. The vehicle was badly damaged, according to investigating State Patrolman Travis Ward.
Also this morning on the Hope-Patterson road just off South Main Street an auto driven by Mrs. Dorthea Camp went off the road into a ditch, hit a rock pile and completely flipped forward coming to rest with all four wheels in the air. Apparently Mrs. Camp was unhurt but the auto was badly damaged. State Patrolman Travis Ward investigated.
Early today at Davidson and Pine autos driven by Mrs. T. C. Crawford and Peggy Adams collided with fender and bumper damage to both. Nobody was injured. City officers Wylie and Pedron investigated.

Mrs. Smith Silent on Stewart Promotion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) won't say yet whether she will again oppose giving a general's star to film actor Jimmy Stewart. She said she wants to check his training record again.
She contended two years ago that Stewart, a World War II combat pilot, had not kept up with training required of most reservists. Her objection was largely responsible for blocking Senate confirmation of Stewart's promotion from colonel to brigadier general in the Air Force Reserve.
President Eisenhower renewed Stewart's nomination Thursday.

Rain Threat, Ice Jam Perils Areas Flooded

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Huge ice jams and more rain were potential danger marks today in flood-monitored sections of Indiana as overflows in northern Ohio subsided.
Wet weather dampened the two states as well as most other sections in the eastern half of the nation.
A 600 break in the permanent levee ended on the upper Wabash River above Delphi, Ind., after driving thousands of persons from their homes. West Terre, Ind., was in line as the next major target of the flood waters.
Sandbagging crews, including National Guardsmen, worked through the night in a steady drizzle at West Terre, hauling building a temporary dike along Sugar Creek, a Wabash River tributary. Instead of trying to patch a 300-foot break in the permanent levee, some 150 homes were evacuated. The town of 3,300 was declared a state of emergency by town officials.
Meanwhile, evacuated families in Logansport and Cabash prepared to return to their homes. The Wabash also dropped rapidly at Peru, one of the communities hardest hit by the midwinter floods.
In Ohio, the Maumee River, after overflowing in several places along a 20-mile stretch southwest of Toledo, dropped back to normal after a huge ice jam moved into Lake Erie.
Residents were returning to their homes in other northern Ohio communities. Hard-hit cities were Fremont, Findlay, Warren, Van Wert, Paulding and Ottawa, but the overflows did not cause as extensive damage as the floods in January.
Fairly mild winter weather prevailed in wide areas from Texas to the Great Lakes region and eastward to the Atlantic Coast.
Southerly winds pushed warm air from the Gulf and with it came widespread precipitation and considerable cloudiness. Light rains or drizzle sprinkled most areas except in western Texas and from Pennsylvania northward.

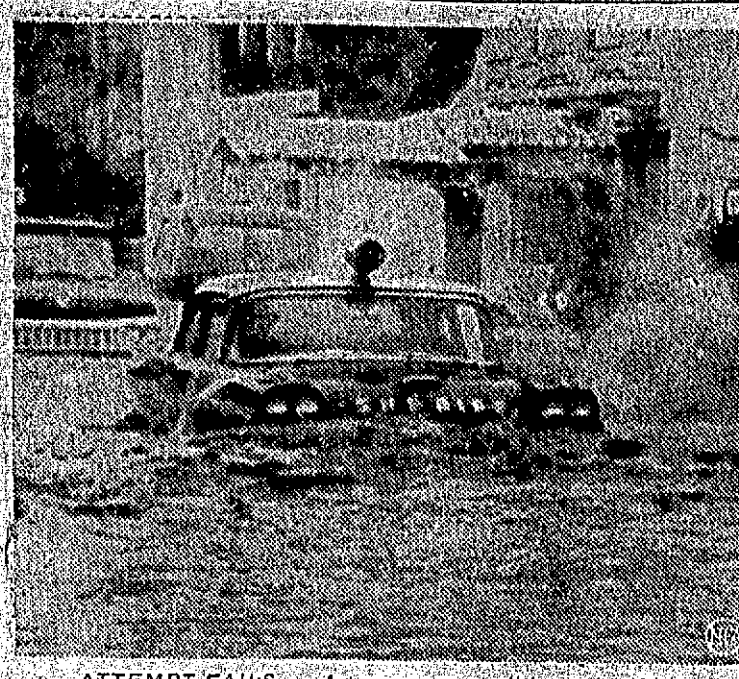

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP) — The twin threat of weekend rains and a unpredictable ice jam heightened the Wabash River flood peril rolling down today toward a sandbagging army of 200 at West Terre Haute, in west central Indiana.
Only fractional amounts of rain fell overnight in the flooded Wabash Valley, but rains of half an inch to two inches were forecast. Continued on Page Eight

Valentine Ball to Be Held in School Gym

A Valentine Ball will be held in the gym at Hope High School on Feb. 14 under the auspices of the Hope High School Band. The dance will begin at 8 p. m. and the admission price of 75¢ per couple will be used to help finance the trip by the band to the State Festival in Hot Springs, April 24-25.
A highlight of the evening will be the crowning of a Valentine King and Queen. They will be selected at the ball from the following candidates:
12th grade, Billy Butler and Sandra Hobbs; 11th grade, Jimmy McElroy and Sharon Foster; 10th grade, Ronnie Formby and Pam Aslin; 9th grade, Joe Lingo and Betty Jordan.
Music for the evening will be furnished by the stage orchestra. "The Down Beats," and during intermission a jukebox will be available for the dancers. Students of all ages, from junior high school through college, are invited. It is hoped that the Valentine Ball will grow into an annual affair.

Cyprus Talks in Britain to Be Speeded

By GARVEN HUGHINS
LONDON (AP) — Gov. Sir Hugh Foot of Cyprus arrived here today to help speed completion of the Zurich plan for peace and independence on the troubled British island.
He told newsmen at the airport that the past few days had "seen something very like a miracle."
The British Cabinet was conducting its first detailed discussion of the agreement reached by the Turkish and Greek Premiers in Zurich, Switzerland. The plan calls for a republic of Cyprus with the British retaining sovereignty over only the islands military bases.
Prime Minister Harold Macmillan considered the Cabinet meeting so important that he attended despite a heavy cold.
Foot's arrival coincided with increasing speculation that Archbishop Makarios, Greek Cypriot leader, exiled by the British for allegedly aiding the terrorist underground, may be coming to London shortly.
Makarios may be the republic's first president.
Turkish Cypriot leaders Fazil Kutchuk and Riad Denktash are flying to London by way of Ankara.
They and Greek Cypriot leaders are expected to sit in on a Greek-Turkish-British foreign ministers conference to give formal approval to the Zurich agreement. This meeting may get under way by Monday or Tuesday.

Additional Assessment Study Okayed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A special legislative committee today turned down a proposed bill its author said was designed to strengthen the tax reassessment program.
The committee retained a second proposed bill for further study. The rejected proposal would have required tax assessment and collection officials and county equalization boards to follow manuals of the state Assessment Co-ordination Department in fixing, and collecting on, property valuations.
Several committed members indicated they weren't convinced that the manuals' values were necessarily correct.
The second proposed bill is designed to prevent any possibility of an equalization board lowering assessments below a specified level after the department had once certified them as having reached that level. It would require a re-examination of the tax books by department representatives before collections were started.
Both proposals were submitted by Russell Morton, attorney for the Assessment Co-ordination Department, to a joint Senate-House Committee which is making a study of the reassessment program—a program designed eventually to establish assessments throughout the state at 20 per cent of actual value.

UN A-Committee in 6th Session

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Scientific Committee on the Effects of Atomic Radiation will begin its sixth session at U.N. headquarters March 23, the meeting being that, two weeks.
The 15-nation committee, established in 1955, submitted a final report last summer to the General Assembly, extended its life indefinitely and asked it to continue its work.

Hoist Drops, Two Killed in 100 Foot Fall

VIBERNUM, Mo. (AP) — A wire cable splice parted and dropped a heavy hoist bucket containing four men 100 feet or more to the bottom of a lead mine shaft late Thursday.
Two miners were killed. The two others survived, although gravely injured. They are in critical condition.
Junior Gilliam of Poloski and Doh Hall of Fredericktown were killed. Gilliam was thrown out of the bucket. The bucket was lifted out an hour later with Hall and the survivors still in it.
All four were from 30 to 35 years and married, mine officials said.
Loy Bennett of Fredericktown, whose right arm was severed, and Lloyd Francis of Dillard, who suffered multiple fractures, were conscious when brought up.
It happened in a flash, Bennett said. Almost incoherent, Bennett said that a moment after the explosive impact of the heavy bucket on the shaft's bottom, 175 feet of the heavy wire cable rained down on them.
Officials of the St. Joseph Lead Co. mine explained a 1/2-inch cable attached to the bucket had been galvanized to the 1/2-inch cable from the hoist.

Finds $65,000 Amid Many Lewd Pictures

CHICAGO (AP) — Police, investigating a case involving pornographic pictures in a 68-year-old woman's cottage, found more than $65,000 in currency stacked in baskets and boxes.
Detectives Richard Cain and Gerald Shallow of the vice squad said the currency was hidden in a closet among piles of pornographic pictures and literature.
The detectives said they also found a bank book showing deposits of $8,000.
The search of the eight-room cottage, at 4131 S. Berkeley Ave., was made after Cain said he arrested Grace Van Scoyk, alias Vance, after she took 20 from him. Cain said he had passed as one of her patrons.
Mrs. Van Scoyk was quoted by the detectives as saying she has 20,000 in a safety deposit box. She said she liked to keep cash where the Internal Revenue Service would not find it. She added she paid a 10,000 fine eight years ago for income tax evasion.
The detectives said they had gone to Mrs. Van Scoyk's home after they learned she had posed recently for obscene photos confiscated by police. They said she has a record of more than 20 arrests for prostitution.
When police asked her about a notebook found in her home and which listed names of men with notations, such as 10 and 20, she ran a hand through her yellowed hair and shrugged. "That's my business," she said.

Bus Service Halts in Indiana City

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Bus service in this city of 128,000 stopped abruptly this morning because "the company cannot continue to absorb the losses."
Mayor William Davidson said he learned of the decision to stop service at midnight. "That's a heck of a way to do," he said.
Wyman Redmon, superintendent of Evansville City Coach Lines, said his orders to stop service came from Maurel Burleigh, president of the parent firm, City Coach Lines, Detroit.
The company first announced plans to stop service Jan. 31 but later agreed to continue until a successor could qualify.
Evansville Transit, a new firm set up by businessmen, is trying to take over bus service, but details are still being worked out.

Appropriations Bill Again Fails in the House

By JOHN R. STARR
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas House today failed to pass the general appropriations bill to provide funds for the state constitutional offices, including the governor.
The vote was left open for consideration and a new vote, however.
The vote was 39-10-15 for the bill.
"This fall short of the three majority vote of the House, 100 members required for most bills, but in this instance 75 votes would have been required."
That is because nearly three million dollars would be appropriated by the bill and with certain exceptions, a three-fourths majority is required for any money measure above $2,500,000.
Presumably the continuing resistance to proposed salary increases for prosecuting attorneys led nearly half the House membership to abstain itself or refrain from voting when the roll was called.
The House apparently had settled its dispute over the proposed raises for prosecutors when a committee of the whole yesterday recommended passage of a compromise measure which would cut back—although not to present levels—the raises requested in the original bill.
It was this "compromise" bill which failed today.
The general appropriations bill is important because it must be approved before other appropriation measures can become law.
There were cries of "special session" from some representatives, when today's roll call was posted on the House's electronic roll-call machine.
The meaning was obvious—the members were suggesting, either seriously or facetiously, that the Legislature would "supersede" itself from now without having passed a general appropriations bill and would be called back to a special session to take care of the matter.
Rep. Marion H. Crank of Little River County, chairman of the Joint Budget Committee, commented after the roll call that "this puts us in a very precarious position."
The Senate has irrevocably turned down the version of the general appropriations bill which was submitted there early in the session—although a substitute bill could still be introduced. Opponents of the bill moved unsuccessfully to raise the Senate measure to fall for lack of a sufficient majority.
After that, the Joint Budget Committee started an effort to get a House bill through both branches.
After the House voted today, Rep. George Davis of Sevier County gave formal notice that he would move for reconsideration within the period required by House rules.
Before the vote was taken, Rep. Dennis Bryant of Independence County had moved unsuccessfully that the bill be placed back on second reading, for purpose of amendment.
The House turned him down, 35 to 20. Since Bryant's motion failed, the nature of possible amendments he had in mind was not disclosed.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The general appropriations bill, a source of considerable argument in the Arkansas Legislature, got over its first major hurdle yesterday, and may have clear sailing the rest of the way.
The House, meeting as a committee of the whole, approved the bill after adopting only two of many amendments introduced.
One of the amendments reduces proposed salary increases for prosecuting attorneys. The other provides small pay raises for some employees in the state treasurer's office.
The increases for prosecutors, which had touched off waves of debate in both the House and Senate, ranged from $2,200 to $5,000 a year, depending upon the position of the various districts served by prosecuting attorneys.
As approved in the House, the increases were cut back to a range of from $1,600 to $2,400 a year.
The raises in the treasurer's office were approved because they had been omitted when general increases were given in other areas. Continued on Page Eight

Retaliation Denied by Legislator

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The sponsor of a controversial House resolution calling on University of Arkansas officials to answer a series of questions denied today that his measure was brought in retaliation for the University's opposition to Arkansas State College's bid for university status.

It would have introduced this resolution even if the Arkansas State College bill were not before the House, said White House Rep. J. H. Moody. "There are not of rumors circulating around concerning some University personnel. This gives University officials a chance to explain the rumors," he said.

Moody's resolution to ask University President John T. Childwell and the Board of Trustees to appear before the House to tell why the University needs 3,000 state money for its student body of 5,500, whether white and Negro students were quartered in the same dormitory at Fayetteville, whether University professors attended interracial meetings, in including one at which atheism was discussed, and whether the University now employs at the Medical Center a person who served a prison term for draft evasion.

House friends of the University attacked Moody's resolution in vitriolic terms yesterday.

This resolution is the most vicious, vindictive proposal I have seen introduced in the Legislature," said Washington Rep. David J. Burleson. "We can only guess at the identity of its true author. He evidently prefers to start inflammatory rumors even though the truth is available to anyone who is interested."

Washington Rep. Charles W. Stewart Jr. said he felt the resolution was tied to the eastern Arkansas delegation's intense desire to secure passage of a Senate bill promoting Arkansas State.

"Every member of the Legislature knows why Mr. Moody's resolution was introduced," Stewart said. "I deeply regret any issue before the House would require such a resolution to gain passage."

Moody's resolution to gain passage, said Rep. Guy French, floor manager of the A-State bill, did not endorse the resolution, but said:

"That sort of thing is going on in any state college. It needs to be brought to light. It won't hurt for the Legislature to look into it."

Critterden Reps. John States and Norman Wimpy, who represent the home county of Arkansas State, said the resolution had not been brought with them and declined comment.

Moody's resolution, now in committee, could be called for floor action Thursday, said Moody, who was not sure when he would seek adoption.

"I think I can prove all the allegations made in my questions," he said. "But I'd rather the University answered them. Moody did not say that he is a supporter of the Arkansas State

WILD SUMMIT By MATT STUART

XXVIII

Tate Offerman was a skinny little man, a bleached and faded little man, who looked like a lonely, solitary job of a line camp rider. In fact, he had spent a considerable portion of his adult life seeking isolation and anonymity. Because, years before, when the time fired with the recklessness and false courage expended by an overload of whiskey, he'd come mitted a minor crime, and had been fleeing from it ever since.

Whiskey. Away from it he was a quiet, reclusive man, frugal of words. But with only a minor amount of it burning under his belt, his size in proportion to the world about him, changed magically.

Like the time a traveling rider had stopped by and had a meal with him. The rider had a pilot in his pocket. Between them they killed it, and Tate Offerman, expanding, had boasted of some thing he had seen. The other rider, a fiddle-foot just passing through, had a day or two later drifted in at Malvern's Corner, and there, making idle talk over Nick Malvern's bar, had related what Tate Offerman had told him. And so, through this somewhat devious and circuitous route had the word reached Sheriff Klint Hyatt.

"I'm seeking information," Hyatt said. "I was told you could furnish me with what I'm after."

"Depends," Offerman said meekly. "I'll do what I can, Sheriff."

"I understand," Hyatt said, holding this faded little man with stern glance, "that you can tell me who killed Cross Lucas. But what you saw it happen?" Is that so?"

In one way Tate Offerman knew a great relief in another he was frightened. This man was not dying into this. Tate Offerman's deep, quiet, but was asking about something as recent as a year previous.

Indubitably, as Offerman's life-long instance had always been to dodge or evade, he made a clumsy attempt at it now.

"Who," he demanded, his voice taking on a note of shrillness, "said I knew anything about the Cross Lucas shooting? I never had anything to do with it."

And I never said you did, probed Hyatt remorselessly. "But you saw it happen."

Tate Offerman just couldn't get away from the demanding impact of Klint Hyatt's words and boring glance. All resistance ran out of him. He gulped and nodded.

"Yeah, I saw it happen. And if you don't mind my saying so, Sheriff, I can't understand how you could help know all about who did it, right from the first."

Klint Hyatt's eyes pinched down, and bleakness ran all through him.

"Strange as it may seem to you, Offerman," he said tersely, "I don't know who did it, and I've no idea who did it. So you tell me!"

"Why," Offerman said, "its like this, Sheriff. The man who killed Cross Lucas was your own deputy, Ollie Ladd. I saw him."

Klint Hyatt reared up in his saddle. "Ollie Ladd? You're lying!"

"You see," shrugged Tate Offerman dully. "I knew you'd get your man up. But in telling the truth, so help me! Ollie Ladd killed Cross Lucas. He shot Lucas in the back. I know he did because I saw him do it. Yes, sir — Ollie Ladd killed Cross Lucas!"

In his emphasis, Tate Offerman met Klint Hyatt's grim stare unwaveringly, and Hyatt knew bleak conviction that he was, indeed, leaving the truth. So while he tried to get this thing the proper perspective, he urged Offerman to go on.

"All right, you're not lying. Tell me exactly what you saw, and now you happened to see it?"

Blinking as he recollected, Tate Offerman told it slowly and carefully.

"Brick Rand had been bunched in considerable sixty-six stuff toward the lower end of the lake. At the time I wondered why and found out later when he moved the dattle around to Lazy Y range on the east side. To hold the stock from driftin', he had me ridin' south line."

"Well, it was a pretty hot day and I headed into the shade of that clump of timber above Burnt Corral to rest my saddle and have a smoke. I'm there maybe 20 minutes when here comes Cross Lucas and Ollie Ladd ridin' up the town trail. They seemed friendly enough talkin' back and forth and such. Right by Burnt Corral they stop move to split up. Lucas comin' along the trail, while Ollie Ladd made like to turn back. But Ollie he was watching over his shoulder, and while he sees Lucas ain't looking, he throws his gun and shoots. Lucas in the back, deliberate and cold-blooded. Then he 'lights' as 'shuck' out there."

Tate Offerman paused, passed a hand across his eyes, as if he'd wiped away something he wished fervently he'd never seen.

"That's it, he went on finally. "The feeling I'd been seeing things. I remember I closed my eyes, almost certain that when I opened

Appropriations Requests Heard

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Two requests for increased appropriations were heard yesterday by the Legislative Joint Budget Committee, but no action was taken on either.

The State Education Department asked for an annual budget of $42,000,000, a total of 218,000 higher than the amount recommended by the state Legislative Council.

The M. H. A. Tuberculosis Sanatorium for Negroes asked for an additional $260,760 to construct and equip a new children's unit and nurses home.

Millions to Speed Missile Warnings

WASHINGTON (AP) — A proposed Air Force communications system to speed missile attack warnings from Alaska to the other 48 states probably will cost 80 million dollars.

This was the preliminary estimate the Air Force today gave Sen. E. L. (Bob) Bartlett (D-Alaska).

The project would provide a two-way link between the Ballistic Missile Early Warning System station at Clear, Alaska, and the other states.

When again I'd find I'd imagined it all. My luck wasn't that good. When I took a second look, there was Cross Lucas down in the trail, with his horse's head around, spooked and uneasy. And there was Ollie Ladd, dustin' it off in the direction of town. "What did you do then?" pressed Hyatt.

Chevy panel steps lively in Florida...runs day and night, delivers 19.3 miles per gallon!

This '59 Chevy panel is on the go, morning, noon and night, it covers as much as 68 miles a day... runs so constantly that its engine never cools off completely. Yet Mr. Clark Farber, the Tampa Tribune's circulation manager, reports that the truck is delivering 19.3 miles per gallon!

This year, the light, medium and heavy-duty trucks of the 1959 Chevrolet Task-Force fleet are out to whip anything that takes their way—and they've got what it takes to do it!

Take the panel pictured above, for example. Powered by the '59 Thriftmaster 6 with new economy-contoured camshaft, it's building a sensational economy record, despite the sizzling pace of its work. That's typical of the way Chevrolets of all sizes are turning to the most challenging jobs in America. The way they're made, with tough-built truck components, they make the hardest hauls look easy!

If you have a job that puts a truck on its mettle, see your Chevrolet dealer!

No job's too tough for a Chevrolet truck!

Chicken, Fish Featured at the Markets

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The start of the Lenten season finds a variety of fish battling for attention in the nation's grocery stores. Shrimp and halibut steak seem to be the fanny favorites.

Both frozen and canned fish are in good supply.

Canned tuna supplies are at record levels, offsetting a decline in the salmon pack. Less expensive white salmon is more plentiful, however, than the higher-cost red salmon.

Cheese and eggs are slightly cheaper this year than last.

Prying chickens are 4 to 10 cents a pound cheaper over a wide area. Pork chops are marked down 4 to 6 cents a pound and leg of lamb 2 to 14 cents a pound in some places. Roast beef also is frequently featured.

Vegetable bargains include storage cabbage, Maine and Long Island potatoes, endive, escarole, topped beets, carrots, turnips and parsnips.

Letuce and broccoli are a shade higher but still good buys along with new Florida cabbage, celery, spinach and vine-ripened tomatoes from Florida and Idaho.

Best fruit buys again are apples and the citrus big three of oranges, tangerines and grapefruit.

OBJETS D'ART

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Richmond's hospitals are being equipped with small boxes for personal effects which are so artistic that nobody suspects their origin as elegant boxes.

The Westhampton Junior Woman's Club is turning them out in pastel shades decorated with painted flowers and designs made from old costume jewelry. If you are a youngster, you may be ornamented with a toy. Or if you are not, the cover may have half a pipe glued to it.

David, Morris, Honored

On Ninth Birthday. Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Morris honored their son, David, with a hamburger supper on his ninth birthday Wednesday, Feb. 11 at the Hope Gospel Tabernacle in the Fellowship Hall. The hall was beautifully decorated in the Valentine motif. Carol Ann Crawford, Mary Cook, Carolyn Sprague were in charge of the games with prizes going to the winners. Pictures were also taken.

Many lovely gifts were received by the honoree.

Special guest for the occasion was Mr. Elmer Brown and Rev. W. C. Land.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Johnny Ferguson, Mrs. Cecil Sprague, Mrs. Rufus Rothwell and Mrs. Minor Polk served a delicious hamburger supper followed with ice cream and cake to 35 guests.

Hope Assembly No. 65, Order of Rainbow, installs officers.

On Monday night, Feb. 2, the Hope Assembly No. 65, Order of Rainbow for girls had an open installation of officers in a ceremony at the Masonic Hall at 7 p.m.

Miss Linda Gail McBrayer, former worthy advisor from Prescott, acted as installing officer with the help of Misses Judy Medders, Sophie McKelvey, Bonita McKelvey and Deloris Esquire all of Prescott.

Worthy Advisor, Anna Whitman; Worthy Associate Advisor, Edwina Whitman; Charities, Caryl Joy Meyers; Hope, Sharon Foster; Faith, Cindy Forester; Recorder, Sue Ann Smith; Treasurer, Linda Thrash; Chaplain, Pam Aslin; Drill Leader, Lana Thompson; Religion, Carole Coop; Love, Tonna Taylor; Nature, Nina Walton; Immorality, Mary Lou Park; Fidelity, Denney Hefner; Patriotism, Susie Dean; Service, Sherrie Hankins; Musician, Ann Sutton; Confidential Observer, Pam Parsons; Outer Observer, Sandra Gaines and Choir Director, Julia Peck.

Anna announced her color as white and her flower, the gardenia. She then presented her parents with flowers. Mrs. C. W. Parson, mother advisor, was also presented with a corsage. Mr. Parson was chosen as chapter dad.

Following the installation, Anna and Edwina Whitman, aided by their parents, served cold drinks and cookies to the 40 members and guests present.

A brand new, weightless wool weighing a mere two ounces makes its debut in this group of resort clothes by Nat Kaplan. The fabric is worsted, is porous and crisp. We show it here in a full skirt, wide collar, which has free swinging top over skirt, which is attached to a silk lining. Cut of the collar is wide and open. Pocket trim on jacket is embroidered in bullion. This sheer, all-wool is used in pale blue center for an elegant dress, with draped collar. Skirt is wide, pleated, gold kid is used for the belt. Pale blue print on white chiffon sheer wool, worsted (right) is incomparably fresh-looking. Classic cut, takes on a new look through unusual collar treatment and wide midriff belt.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Mrs. Henry B. Chaudenry, 60, died for the "living" telephone early Tuesday.

It was a long distance call from her nephew, David Volk, of Indianapolis.

"Are you all right?" Volk asked. "Of course," replied Mrs. Chaudenry. "Why do you call at this hour?"

Then she and her husband learned of the tornado which had ripped through St. Louis, passing within a block from their apartment.

LEXINGTON, N. C. (AP)—John B. Leonard figured he had seen the limit of ingratitude when his 1958 city tax notice listed a $4.30 billing for an ancient four-room house.

TOP MAN ON THE TOTAL POLE

A total of almost $10,000,000,000 was spent for advertising last year... and nearly a third of it was spent in daily newspapers, $3,235,600,000, to be exact.

That's more money in newspapers than ever before... more than in any other medium... more than in TV, radio, magazines and outdoor combined.

Every year, newspapers are on top of the total pole. The reason is simple. For results, newspapers can't be topped.

Use the daily newspaper as your basic advertising medium. Most advertisers do.

Newspapers . . . $3,235,600,000

Television . . . $1,209,900,000

Magazines . . . $794,700,000

Radio . . . $570,700,000

Outdoor . . . $199,600,000

West Virginia Seems to Like N. Y. Garden

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

There's probably no logical reason for it, but in the last 18 years West Virginia's basketball teams and New York's Madison Square Garden have gone together like ice cream and catsup.

If that strikes you as less than tasty, so it is for the Mountaineers in their dribble digging in the Garden.

Since sweeping through three upset victories to nail the National Invitation Tournament in 1942, West Virginia has made 28 Garden appearances including tournaments and regular season games.

The Garden record is 10-18, including Thursday night's stomach-growing 72-70 loss in overtime to New York University. During the same stretch, West Virginia teams have won 76 per cent of their games on other courts.

NYU came from 11 points behind to apply the Garden jinx, finally clinching the upset when 6-4 Cal Ramsey sank three pressure free throws in the last 80 seconds of overtime.

North Carolina won its 10th straight Atlantic Coast Conference game for a 15-1 record, 75-66 over Wake Forest in a duel climaxed by a fist-swinging brawl; 6-7 Herb Busch had a big night in Virginia's 65-66 victory over VMI; Manhattan improved its tournament chances 71-53 over Syracuse; and Western Kentucky mauled Tampa 89-57 in other major pointings.

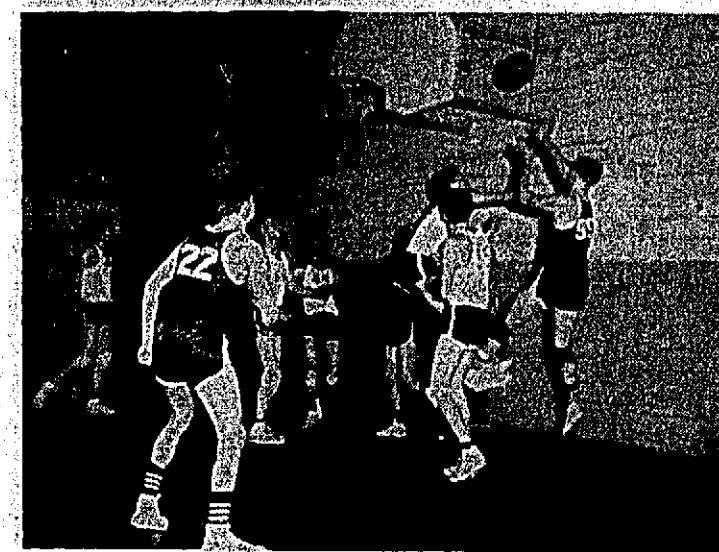

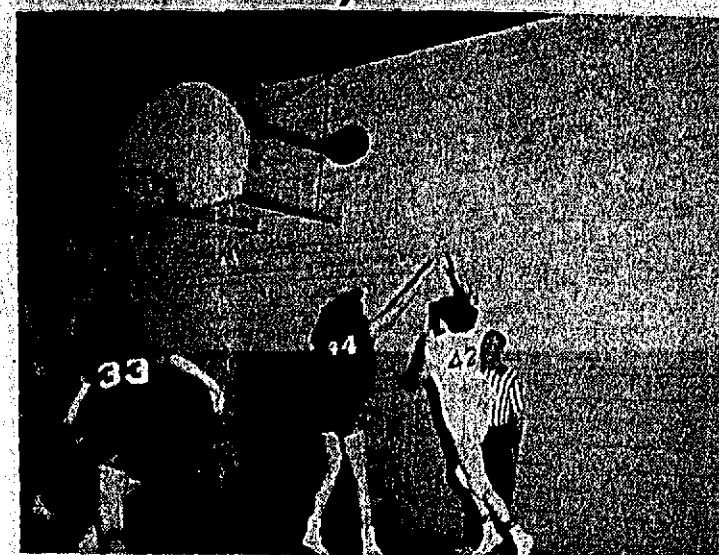

North Carolina's winning streak went to nine against Wake Forest in an ACC tussle which broke out into a brawl when the Tar Heels' Lee Shaffer and the Deacons' Charlie Forte collided in a scramble for a loose ball with 30 seconds left and Carolina 11 points ahead.

Both benches emptied to join the free-for-all and some of the 8,229 spectators joined in before police and college officials could break it up. Four Tar Heels hit double figures with Joe Kenney getting 17, Shaffer and Doug Moe 16 apiece and York-Larose 14. Busch scored 26 points and grabbed 18 rebounds for Virginia, and reserves Darrell Bicknell (28) and Jude Talbott (18) combined for 46 points in Western Kentucky's romp.

George Krajacik scored 20 of his 22 points and Doug Hoffman 14 of his 18, tallies in the second half as Clemson beat Furman 73-64. Jack Whelan's 20 points led Holy Cross over American International 61-53, and Gary Phillips' 26 were tops as Houston spilled Loyola of New Orleans 71-54.

Two thirds of South Carolina — 10,732,000 acres — are planted with trees. Most are pine and cypress.

Nevada County Tournament

ACTION in the Nevada County tournament at Engraving last night shows the Bodcaw and Prescott girls battling in the top photo. Prescott won the game 46 to 26.

In the bottom photo the Bodcaw and Prescott senior boys play a thrilling game which was close to the very end with Prescott coming out on top 51 to 49.

Wolves Edge Bodcaw in County Meet

In the Nevada County tournament last night at Willsville the Laneburg Junior boys licked Bodcaw 25 to 17; the Prescott Senior girls handed Bodcaw girls a 46 to 26 defeat and the Prescott Senior boys downed the Bodcaw boys 51 to 49 in a thriller.

With five minutes to go the Bodcaw and Prescott boys were tied 43 all. Two minutes passed without a score until Worthington put Prescott ahead 45 to 43. With 2:35 to go Bodcaw's Russell tied it up with a couple of free tosses.

Prescott's Hart made it 47 to 45 and Cornelius of Bodcaw tied it again with two minutes to go. Then Prescott's Lewis put his team ahead with a free toss 48-47. Kinsey put Prescott two points ahead with a free toss. With a minute to go Tomlin of Bodcaw calmly put in two free ones to tie it again 49 all. Two more free tosses by Lewis again put Prescott out front. With seconds left Bodcaw's Daniels missed his chance at the free throw line and Prescott won 51 to 49.

head with a free toss. With a minute to go Tomlin of Bodcaw calmly put in two free ones to tie it again 49 all. Two more free tosses by Lewis again put Prescott out front. With seconds left Bodcaw's Daniels missed his chance at the free throw line and Prescott won 51 to 49.

Friday night Emmet and Cale Junior girls play to the title; at 7:30 Willsville and Cale girls will meet in the semi finals; at 8:30 Willsville and Cale Senior boys go into the semi finals. Saturday at 6:30 Laneburg and Prescott boys meet in the finals; at 7:30 Prescott Senior girls meet Cale of Willsville and at 8:30 the senior boys meet.

MARK OF THE JUDGE

Hope Girls in Victory at Fairview

Hope's Senior girls handed the Fairview girls a 47 to 20 defeat here last night and the local boys downed the Fairview B boys 43 to 41.

Saturday night the Hope Junior and Senior boys go to Arkadelphia for crucial district games. A victory would give the Bobcats a good shot at the title.

Yerger Host to 4-County Tournament

The Junior girls and senior boys division of the 4 County tournament will be held at Yerger High School Gym Saturday. The counties represented will be Stover, Little River, Howard and Hempstead.

The outstanding teams are Ashdown from Little River; Toltette of Howard; Locksburg of Sevier; and Washington and Yerger from Hempstead County.

The first game will start at 9 on Saturday morning between Ashdown and Washington. The Yerger Tigers will meet the winner of this game at 3 p.m.

The Yerger Tigers will play Malvern, Wilson High, tonight (Friday) at Yerger Gym.

Three games will be played with the Junior boys starting at 6:30 followed by the senior girls and boys.

Fiday 13th Doesn't Bother Ron Delany

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Well, sir, it's Friday the 13th, but that doesn't bother Ireland's fabulous Ron Delany.

He figures his Irish luck will carry him to his 28th straight victory and a new meet record in the 15th Inquirer Indoor Track Games at Convention Hall tonight.

"I figure we should break the meet record," he said Thursday. Delany, now a graduate student at Villanova, holds the record of 4:08.1.

A sellout crowd of 10,600 is expected to watch the games in which many of the world's finest athletes, including 10 champions of foreign countries, will compete.

An international field hopes to break Delany's streak. It includes England's Brian Hewson, Sweden's Dan Warren, Hungary's Lazo Tabari and Americans Jim Greife and Phil Coleman.

Appropriations

The general appropriation bill, which provides money for all of the state's constitutional officers, must be passed and signed by the governor before any other budget bills can become law. House leaders said they were confident the amended bill will receive the necessary 75 votes when it is called up for final adoption.

Meanwhile, the Senate passed a so-called uniform securities law, a bill requiring the Legislative Council to hold open sessions except when dealing with privileged matters and defeated a controversial water safety proposal.

The securities bill, backed by leaves them where people are apt to come looking for him.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus, would tighten up state laws governing the sale of stocks. Sen. Rudolph Bates of Mount Ida said it would require anyone selling common stocks to make a full disclosure of the nature and status of the securities.

The bill also would authorize the governor to appoint a securities commissioner to work through the state Banking Department and check on stock sales.

The proposal to open a session of the General Assembly's own Legislative Council cleared the Senate after some members blamed current budget troubles on closed meetings, conducted last year. One of the council's functions is to draft budget bills in advance of the session and some of these have come under sharp attack in the Legislature. There were no dissenting votes on the bill.

The water safety bill, proposed by Sen. Max Howell of Little Rock, sought to establish a number of state-enforced safety regulations pertaining to boating and water-skiing.

Sen. Q. Byrum Hurst of Hot Springs led the opposition with the charge that stringent regulations would discourage water recreation and hurt the business of resort areas.

A new bill introduced in the House incorporated another step, and plan proposed earlier this week by Faubus. It would authorize the direct payment of state aid to a student who withdrew from an integrated school. The money could be used to pay tuition at any other school.

Rep. John Bethell of Prairie County, one of the bill's authors, said "This is something that should have been done long ago."

And the House adopted unanimously a resolution inviting Rep. Dale Alford (D-Ark.) of the Fifth Congressional District to address the lower chamber Feb. 20.

The resolution described Alford as "an outstanding leader in the efforts to preserve the rights reserved to the states by the constitution of the United States."

A sandbag dike growing behind a breached levee ground near Terre Haute was five blocks long and four feet high.

The hundred National Guardsmen ordered in Thursday as the core of a sandbagging crew was reinforced with 30 prisoners from the state penal farm at Putnamville and volunteers for a total of 200. The suburb has a population of 3,300.

A protected six-foot height for the dike was expected to hold back the 25-foot Wabash River crest, predicted for Terre Haute Saturday. It is expected to spread out in the broad valley below Terre Haute with comparatively little damage.

Gov. Harold W. Handley's office said further information from the Army engineers was being awaited before any decision is made on whether to dynamite an eight-mile icejam in the Wabash north-east of Delphi, in north central Indiana. The mass of ice posed a threat to bridges over the historic river.
